

Project: Portfolio

What

In this project, my website (nickfigner.com) received a comprehensive update - the full program: from a new design to expanded functions to fresh content.

Why

My old portfolio was no longer up to date. Neither the design nor the information was current. A refresh was therefore long overdue.

How

My goal was a simple, modern design with great attention to detail. After testing a few ideas on Figma, I particularly liked two features: the mix between sans-serif (Inter) and serif (Amiri) fonts and the star Unicode symbol (✧). I combined these elements and developed my final design.

The navigation and content of the website are clearly separated by the two different fonts, which improves the overview. On mobile, I replaced the bottom navigation bar with a floating action button.
